ProBono.Org and the Nelson Mandela Foundation are hosting a series of dialogues that will offer a safe space for young law graduates (interns, CAs, volunteers, researchers) from private and public organisations to reflect critically on the important challenges they face in the current socio-economic-legal context and encourage problem-solving and communication to generate workable propositions for changes needed in the legal sector.

Three Dialogue Platforms are envisaged for 2018 – 2019 with each one thematically designed to enable greater social justice awareness.

First Dialogue – 11 October 2018

Date: 11 October 2018
Time: 10:00 – 12:00.
Lunch will be served

Venue:
The Nelson Mandela Foundation,
107 Central Street, Houghton Estate
Johannesburg

RSVP:
Phumi@probono.org.za before 4 October 2018

To mark the important 100th birth year of Madiba the first dialogue will be a small conversational round table dedicated to Madiba the Lawyer in which we unpack the ethics and values that characterised his life and profession and its relevance for reshaping the ethical character of the legal profession today.

Facilitator:
Michelle Odayan,
National Director, ProBono.Org

Discussants:
Albie Sachs,
Activist and former judge of the Constitutional Court
Lwando Xaso,
Senior Associate, ENSafrica
Sahm Venter,
Senior researcher, Nelson Mandela Foundation
