LPC warns practitioners of a fraudulent email purporting to be from the LPC

The Legal Practice Council would like to warn all legal practitioners about a fraudulent email that purports to be from the Council.

Legal practitioners are advised to please ignore any email from the sender below and, in particular, not to click on the link in this or any other mail that comes from a suspicious source. Indications in the mail below that should give rise to suspicions are (i) the fact that it comes from a Yahoo address, (ii) the spelling error, (iii) the incorrect telephone number given for the LPC and (iv) the incorrect e-mail address (i.e. .co.za and not .org.za).
