Notice to Legal Practitioners:

Dear Legal Practitioners,

The Council wishes to inform all legal practitioners that the recent elections for the Board of the Legal Practitioners' Fidelity Fund (LPFF) did not comply with the Legal Practice Council Rules, as stipulated in Rule 46 of the Rules.

The Council has therefore decided to rerun the LPFF elections.

The Council apologises for any inconvenience and confusion caused by this matter and assures all legal practitioners that it is committed to upholding the highest standards of integrity and professionalism in the legal sector.

The Council will announce a new date and procedure for the LPFF elections as soon as possible and will ensure that they are conducted in a fair, transparent and lawful manner.

The Council requests the cooperation and understanding of all legal practitioners in this regard.
